what has taken piace last Tuerday that the blican party of Lewis and Clarke unty is in the process of disintegration Because Lewis and Clarke did not go republican the managers of the party charge treason. Ever since the returns began coming in the party organ has thrown out the crowd and allowing them to arrange their bailots there.

A number of bets on Carter and Maginnis were settled yesterday and some on Toole and Power, though betters on Power are still sanguine that their manipulating leaders may still pull them through all right and defeat the popular will. When this rumor gained general circulation yesterday, and when it was believed to have no foundation from the fact that Col. Sanders and Attorney Weed had gone or would go to Anaconda to attempt to have the vote of the naturalized foreign element there thrown out, a bretze of indignation was felt throughout the city, which gave forebodings that should such intermedding be resorted to there will be some lively times. whom it would not mention by name, and yesterday evening the semi-official organ followed suit and hinted at treachery. Of course reputable republicans no in the ring began to inquire of one another who the traitor was, and it was soon found out who the suspects were. Great indignation was manifested among Great indignation was manifested among reputable republicans when it was learned who the men were that Russeil B. Harrison's paper accused of malfeasance in faith. If Russeil B has succeeded in nothing else he has undertaken he has succeeded in dividing the republican party of Lewis and Clarke county—the alleged thoroughbreds and the alleged scrubs.

"I am not going to call any names because our fault finding friends, the enemy, have not mentioned names, but I will make have not mentioned names, but I will man it so plain that those that are hit may re-assured that I intend my shafts for their about the superb Pullman dining cars which have been recently placed in service via the Union Pacific, "The Overland loe Toole carried Louis and Clarke cobecause he is the strongest n in the county, barring none. The county, barring none. The power was beaten because he not popular. I can't see any treacher; that, yet Russell B.'s organ says that I so ther republicaus, who were republicaus before Russell got off his swaddling clothe went back on the narty, and helped to get before Russell got off his swaddling clothes, went back on the party, and helped to elect the democratic ticket. That is lie No. 1. I voted the straight republican ticket and know that other suspects did the same thing. We also used what influence we had to induce others to vote the same ticket, with what success I don't know. I believe in the Australian system of voting and believe that everybody voted their sentiments. I would like to have seen the whole republican ticket elected in this county, but it wasn't. I take my medicine like a sittle man. The others should do the same thing. You can say for me that if any one of the gang would say to me that I was a traitor I would promptly knock him down."

Another republican who was seen was very much incensed over the cry of traitor. He said: "I am an old-timer here and have always been a consistent republican, and I know the men whom the Journal accuses of treachery to be republicans. They are old soldiers and men a ove reproach. The accusations made against them in the shape of Instantions are contemptible. Well, thiogs will change next year, you see if they don't. We will not be dictated to by a lot of whipper snappers whose work has been detrimenal to our cause. Anothir campaign conducted by the party organ and the organ would be all that was left. There would be no party in Montana except the democratic party. We will allow ho state of youn you committee run by such men as run it this campaign to dictate to us in the future."

"You admit, then, that there is a split in the republican party in Louis and Clarke county?"

"I won't go so far as that, but I will say that some o the leading republicans in this."

J. Fisk, Max Behrens, M. M. Holter, J.

"I won't go so far as that, but I will say that some of the leading republicans in this city have been outrageously attacked by the official organ, and it is but human nature that we should resent it. Why prominent republicans in Helena should be singled out, maligned, vitified and malicionally abused I can not say. Nobody but madmen would do such a thing. They are cutting off their own heads and they will be a great deal handsomer when decapitated than they are 22 present. No, the republican party of Lewis and Clarke county is not spill, but there is a breach and there are a good many of us who don't propose to be dictated to hereafter by Russell B. Harrison's young man, who has made votes for the democratic party."

The sentiments of the two gentlemen quoted are similar to a balf a dezen others who were spoken to. All condemned in "I won't go so far as that, but I will say that some o the leading republicans in this who were spoken to. One of my special delights yesterday, said a lady, was a visit to the cloak and suit department of the New York Dry Goods Store. I have visited many emporiums that were great favorites with a tashionable public, but for a city of the size of Helena the magnitude and the elegance of the effects of this concern is a decided credit. Helena evidently demands the very best of merchandise, as here is displayed quaint styles of newmarkets of Belgr, via directory, and the first empire season, the styles being more varied and the colors more pronounced. Nile greens, French blue and moonlight gray, with gorgeous trimmings, are to be seen here. Oriental fashions, gathered from Alexan-dria and off the Nile. The New York Dry Goods Store informs me has supplied the Parisian this season for its modern fashsembling there for the annual encampment which will last seven days.
